International Women's Day – March 8

Introduction:

International Women's Day (IWD) is celebrated annually on March 8 to honor the achievements of women in various fields, promote gender equality, and raise awareness about women's rights. It is a day to recognize the contributions of women in society and to advocate for a more inclusive and equitable world.

History and Significance:

The roots of International Women's Day date back to 1908, when thousands of women marched in New York City demanding better working conditions, voting rights, and fair wages. In 1910, Clara Zetkin, a German activist, proposed the idea of a global Women's Day at the International Socialist Women's Conference. The first official International Women's Day was celebrated in 1911 in several countries, including Austria, Denmark, Germany, and Switzerland. In 1977, the United Nations officially recognized March 8 as International Women's Day, and since then, it has been observed worldwide with different themes each year to highlight various issues affecting women.

❖ Importance of Women's Empowerment:

Women's empowerment is crucial for the progress of any society. It ensures:
